

Olean Times Herald Press Release - Jan.9, 2015

Olean, NY:

(Olean, NY.....) Olean Medical Group CEO, Daniel Strauch, announced that Dr. Adil Al-Humadi has joined the Group as of January 1, 2015.

"We are very pleased to have the opportunity to work with Dr. Adil Al-Humadi," Strauch said. "He is a compassionate physician and a skilled surgeon. We worked closely together to jointly recruit a new colorectal surgeon, so that Dr. Al-Humadi's specialty will continue to be served in the community."

Dr. Al-Humadi is board certified in colorectal surgery. He will work closely with Dr. Raj Jeganathan, who recently joined Olean Medical Group after having completed his fellowship in colorectal surgery at Thomas Jefferson University Hospitals in Philadelphia. His office is on the second floor of Olean Medical Group's principle office on Main Street in Olean.

Dr. Al-Humadi will remain in his office at the Medical Arts Building on West State Street in Olean. His phone number and fax number will remain the same but billing will now be coordinated at Olean Medical Group's main office in Olean.

"I am very pleased to be joining Olean Medical Group after successfully operating my practice for 40 years," said Dr. Al-Humadi. "It is terrific to have a new, talented colorectal surgeon in the area to work with me. I plan to eventually transition my practice to Dr. Jeganathan and I am satisfied that my patients will be in very good hands."

Dr. Al-Humadi came to Olean in 1974 after having completed a Colon and Rectal Surgery Fellowship at Buffalo General Hospital. He is an active member of the staff at Olean General Hospital, a Clinical Assistant Professor of Surgery, State University of New York at Buffalo (SUNY) and a volunteer teacher for the University Residency Program.

Dr. Al-Humadi is a board member and past treasurer of the Iraqi Medical Sciences Association. He was Chairman of the Bylaws Committee of National Arab American Medical Association. He has had numerous publications for various medical journals, conducted many invited lectures at medical conferences, along with various Poster presentations.

Born in Baghdad, Iraq, Dr. Al-Humadi is one of the Founding Fathers of the Islamic Society of the Southern Tier and was the Islamic School Principal for many years. He was instrumental in building a new Mosque in Allegany, New York and he is an active member of the Interfaith Association, attending many interfaith groups in the area.

Dr. Al-Humadi lives in Olean, New York, with his wife, Jehan. They have four children – a son who is an Orthopedic Surgeon at Olean General Hospital, a daughter who is a lawyer in Baltimore, MD, and two other sons in medical school.